Shelley tap dancers hit Clemens Center

THE LEADER STAFF

CORNING | The Shelley Oliver Tap Dancers will perform at 7 p.m. tonight, 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday, and at 3 and 7 p.m. Sunday at the Clemens Center.

The Shelley Oliver Tap Dancers is a high-caliber ensemble of three women tap dancers that presents energetic tap dance concerts and conducts interactive lectures on jazz tap that inform and entertain audiences. The performances include dynamic improvisational elements, synchronized ensemble dancing and stunning solo work. Oliver's rhythmically driven choreography combined with sophisticated musical arrangements and live accompaniment by the David Leonhardt Jazz Group promises a vibrant interaction among dancers and musicians.

Oliver has over 20 years experience as a professional tap dancer in which time she has appeared internationally with some of the legends of the tap world. She has toured extensively throughout Europe, China, the Caribbean, Canada and the U.S., performing with such tap notables as Savion Glover, Jimmy Slide, Buster Brown, and Chuck Green.

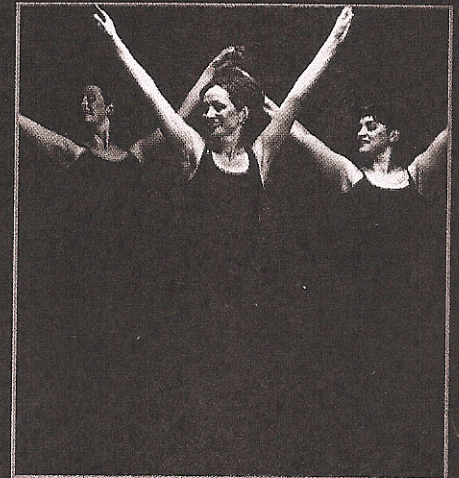

David Leonhardt, jazz

pianist, composer and recording artist, has 25 years of critically acclaimed experience including TV, radio, concerts, festivals and night clubs. He has appeared throughout North and South America, Europe, the Middle and Far East and has produced, arranged, and performed on numerous recordings with jazz stars Stan Getz, Herbie Mann, Slide Hampton, Jon Hendricks and Ron Carter.

Tickets are $15 for youth, $25 for 171 & Clemens Center members, and $35 for non-members. Call 734-8191.
